

AgeLOC

AgeLOC is a new scientific platform based on genetics whereby it is possible to identify the genes that are related to aging and then “reset” those genes to a more youthful state. Until now, most nutritional and pharmaceutical companies have been trying to find that one “mother” gene.

Nu Skin has discovered that one gene does not control aging but rather groups of genes acting together. These groups of genes have been labeled as “youth gene clusters” and this new discovery is able to not only identify them (which no other company has been able to do) but also influence the expression of them which results in reversing the aging process.

There are two very important things that make Nu Skin as a company, so unique:

1. It has made it possible to IDENTIFY the gene clusters in the human body that affect the aging process. Using a patented algorithm, they’re able to locate and influence this cluster. With around 25,000 genes in the human genome to look within, this accomplishment is enormous.
2. It is able to RESET the Youth Gene Clusters (YGC’s) to a more youthful state. It is important to understand that Nu Skin does not alter genes but rather influences the expression of genes. It is now known that the expression of certain genes working together is what causes aging. AgeLOC can down regulate and up regulate the appropriate genes resulting in making you younger on both the inside and outside!

AgeLOC is a scientific platform that identifies genes in the body related to aging and then “resets” those genes to a more youthful state. Many products will be created using the ageLOC platform/technology. The first ageLOC product line released to the market is called, “AgeLOC Transformation” which is a skin-care line.

In October of 2010 the next generation of ageLOC products was released. The product will be available for general sale early February 2011. It is the first 100% genetically based nutritional product - ageLOC is going “inside”.

ageLOC Vitality is a brand new breakthrough genetic anti-aging nutritional product that targets the genes related to mitochondrial function for the heart, brain and muscles. It enables the mitochondria in these organs to function as it did in our youth.

Imagine having the physical, mental and sexual vitality of a 20 year old.

ageLOC Vitality is ‘crash-less energy’ meaning it does not contain stimulants like caffeine or sugar that have undesirable side effects.

ageLOC Vitality is all natural and is less expensive than a Red Bull, V or coffee.

Vitality has been passed by the banned substances committee and is 100% safe for athletes.
